

Future-proof and save money with Hosted Voice

Phone systems hosted in the cloud for flexibility, cost saving and powerful call management features.

Leaf offers a complete cloud communication system for your business, giving you flexibility and complete control over your telephone systems.

Hosted Voice telephone systems provide businesses with an extensive range of communication capabilities and benefits:

Flexible Working

Take and manage calls not only from desk phone but over mobile and computer too.

Multi-site Deployment

Shows snippets of all new or trending information on the site with slick and simple navigation.

Scalable

Scale your system alongside your business. Connect multiple sites and when you need to.

Reduce costs

Reduce hardware and benefit from automatic maintenance and upgrades.

Business Continuity

Keep people connected even if in different locations or if something unexpected happens.

Great call features

Forwarding transfer, voicemail, group searching, local presence and more.
